The British Columbian.

NEW WESTMINSTER, WEDNESDAY, JULY 8, 1863.
PRESENT STAGNATION—ITS CAUSE.

There probably never was a period since the great excitement of '58 when general stagnation in all the branches of trade and industry has been so palpable and felt as at the present time. Notwithstanding the known richness, permanency and extent of our gold fields, notwithstanding the great and growing confidence in our agricultural resources and the undoubted great future of this Colony in connection with an inter-colonial railway; yet there rests a shade on every countenance, a dead weight on every heart. There seems to be no spirit of enterprise or activity, and it is as if a great gloom, rested upon the Colony. Men, naturally energetic and indomitable, walk about with bowed heads, muttering dissatisfaction and discontent.

Need we tell our readers the cause of all this is to be found in the system of Government by which this Colony has been hampered and enfeebled, which sits upon its energies like the nightmare upon the helpless and disordered sleeper? Coming to this young Colony elastic with hope and courage men were not prepared to bow down their neck to the iron heel of a paltry despot who was as little accustomed to deal with intelligence as he is capable of appreciating manly independence. Denied all those rights which they were accustomed to look upon as inalienable, and treated as slaves or semi-civilized, many have left the Colony in utter disgust, while the comparatively few who still remain in the expectation of a change have lingered out five long weary years waiting for tardy justice from the dull and lazy occupant of the Colonial office ten or twelve thousand miles away.

The monstrous absurdity of being governed by a Colonial Minister living on the opposite side of the Globe through an absentee Governor who has not a single interest or sympathy identical with the people he governs must be sufficiently obvious to every reflecting mind. Self-government—local and municipal administration—is the very genius of the British constitution, the image and transcript of which, as a British Colony, we are entitled to. Colonists understand their own affairs infinitely better than the people who reside in an old country, removed so far from the scene of our struggles, can possibly do. Our loyalty and affection are to be perpetuated and secured not by making us take their way and do everything by their rule, which may be well enough in their own country but is altogether inapplicable here, but by allowing us to manage our own affairs in that way which will best promote our own interests as a Colony.

Our desire is not to be Canadians, Australians or New Zealanders, but every inch Britons. Cris Anglus sum ought to be our boast. Great Britain should be our country. "Home-keeping youth have ever homely wits;" and surely men do not become less worthy of the name and claims of Britons because they go forth to found new Colonies for the empire. But to treat her enterprising sons as we of British Columbia have been treated is not the way for Britain to encourage her children who go from home to consolidate and extend her dominions. They are certainly not less entitled to, or less capable of exercising profitably, the rights which they enjoyed at home than those whom they left behind. The courage necessary to enable them to tear themselves away from their native land and undertake a journey to so distant a Colony as this and the experience in battling with the hardships and difficulties incident to the life of a pioneer surely cannot be taken to disqualify them for managing their own affairs; and if they have been permitted to exercise the rights of self-government under the paternal eye surely they should be allowed at least equal privilege when removed to such a distance that paternal supervision is impracticable. What would be thought of a father who while his grown-up sons were at home trained them by the most liberal domestic laws to do for themselves, but when the time arrived for them to go out into the world to carve out their own fortunes, should require them to submit unconditionally to the will and dictation of a stranger who might by the merest accident be chosen as their guardian?

Had the parent Government even placed over us one of her enlightened and experienced statesmen, who understand and appreciate liberal institutions, the case would be divested of half its aggravation. But to expect a Colony to be content and to thrive under the absolute rule of a man who is ignorant of the first rudiments of liberal and free institutions, is at once an unpardonable blunder and a burning insult. And nothing short of a deep-rooted and never-dying loyalty and love of country would enable us, under such trying circumstances, to retain our fealty to that nation the name of which is still our boast and our glory.

CASTIGATORY.

A certain standard author has said, "Though thou should'st bray a fool in a mortar yet will not his foolishness depart from him." The Editor of the Chronicle affords a very striking illustration of the truth of this proverb. On a recent occasion we felt it to be our duty to administer a pretty severe castigation to both of our Island contemporaries; but while one, and that the one of which we had least hope, has the good sense to bow meekly under the merited chastisement the other has just afforded his readers another proof of his total lack of discretion and common decency, as well as a melancholy exposure of the leanness of his mental calibre.

We discussed the question of a union of these Colonies with him, and left him not a peg to stand upon; we pointed out the injustice of the Gold Escort, proving from his own columns that the people of this Colony did not want it, and we proved the utter unreliability of his paper by making him flatly contradict himself within a space of two months, and that not in trifling matters of detail but upon important fundamental principles. And how does he meet all this? He tells his readers, in fact, that so many write in his paper he must not be held responsible for contradictions which may appear in its editorial columns! He reiterates several false charges which he has made over and over again, and which we have refuted as often; and he caps the climax by penning a gross insult to a large and respectable community.

We may occasionally have been lead into the use of pretty strong language in controversy with our Island contemporaries; but the Editor of the Chronicle need hardly be reminded of the proverb, "Answer a fool according to his folly." A certain class of writers can only be reached with a certain kind of language, and we need hardly assure our readers that it has been anything but an agreeable task to deal with the washy, unreasoning vapourings of our contemporary. Like an old fish-woman, when argument fails him, which it generally does very quickly, he has recourse to calling naughty names.

We must now inform the Editor of the Chronicle that unless he will mend his manners it will be impossible for us to continue professional intercourse with him. If he will reiterate falsehoods we have taken the pains to refute, if instead of reason he will persist in dealing out the foulest bilgewater, and if he claims the right to say one thing to-day and the very opposite to-morrow it is obviously not only useless to hold further controversy with him, but a proper respect for ourself forbids our keeping a very company. This sort of thing may be a very convenient substitute for argument and talent; but the man who has such frequent recourse to it must be aware that he thereby puts it out of our power to defend ourself against such gross and ungentlemanly, such unprofessional attacks.

NEWS FROM THE MINES.

Water, stagnation, inaction. Although there is considerable prospecting going on there is very little actual mining on account of the high water. The natural consequence is that very many are thrown out of work for the time, and of course, more or less, hardship is the result. Prospecting is now going on as far as nine miles below the Canyon, six of which are known to be rich, and it is found that the gold obtained in the flat is of a greater fineness than that higher up. Mr. Cochrane of the Grizzly claim, on the flat, came down on Monday with $7000, having disposed of his interest for that amount. He is an experienced California miner, and expresses great confidence in the future of Cariboo. We learn that Mr. Russell of the Bank was only offering $15.50 for gold, at which price none would be sold unless small inferior lots for the sake of obtaining a little pocket money. In ordinary business transactions Williams Creek gold is taken at $16.50, and some of it assays here as high as $17.25, while it will probably average $17. We understand that, as a general rule, miners will not sell under $17 on the creek, preferring to bring their gold down themselves and make the most out of it. The provision market had undergone no material change, although in a few days it was confidently anticipated prices would be reduced about one hundred per cent.

THE WATER at Yale is falling considerably, and it is expected that the steamers will shortly resume their trips through. At Douglas the water is very high, flooding several houses. Considerable of the Pemberton and the Douglas Portages were submerged.

ABSTRACT of Prison return for the month of June, 1863: In Jail on the 1st of the month, 20; received during the month, 4; discharged during the month, 3; in Jail on the 30th of the month, 21.

Poetry.

The Young Widow.

She is modest, she is bashful, Free and easy, but not bold—
Like an apple, ripe and mellow,
Not too young, and not too old,
Half inviting, half repulsive, Now advancing and now shy,
There is mischief in her dimple,
There is danger in her eye.

She has studied human nature,
She is schooled in all her arts,
She has taken her diploma
As the mistress of all hearts.
She can tell the very moment
When to sigh and when to smile, Oh! a maid is sometimes charming,
But a widow all the while!

You are sad? How very serious Will her handsome face become.
Are you angry? She is wretched, Lonely, friendless, fearful, dumb.
Are you misanthropic? How her laughter, Silver sounding, will ring out—
She can lure, and catch, and play you
As the angler does the trout.

Ye old bachelors of forty
Who have grown so bold and wise, Young American of twenty,
With your love-locks in your eyes,
You may practice all the lessons Taught by Cupid since the fall,
But I know a little widow
Who could win, and fool you all!

HORRIBLE FLOGGING ON BOARD A MAN-OF-WAR.— A correspondent of the Liverpool Mercury makes the following statement:—

"Precisely at half-past 7 on Monday, the 27th inst., the crew of H. M. S. Majestic were summoned to muster on the starboard side of the main-deck to witness one of their fellow-men fastened to a grating for the purpose of receiving 48 lashes, to which he had been sentenced by a court-martial for attempting to rescue a prisoner from the hands of the master-at-arms or chief of police, and also for striking a petty officer.
Silence having been obtained, the Captain proceeded to read aloud his warrant, at the close of which he in a stern voice called the boatswain, who immediately stepped forward. "Give that man one dozen lashes," commands the captain, and the boatswain seized the cat-o-nine-tails, and commenced the dreadful punishment. Lash after lash fell upon the unfortunate man, which caused him to give utterance to the following ejaculations:—"Oh, my mother, my mother; what would you think of your poor son now?" and "O God, what have I done to deserve this?"
and turning himself to the captain as much as he could, he said, "O captain, have you no pity?" think of your own sons; I did not merit this from you;" at which the captain was distinctly seen to smile. All this took place during the time the first dozen were being inflicted.
The captain then ordered one of the boatswain's mates to "Give that man one dozen lashes," which order was instantly obeyed. The severity of the lash having rendered him insensible, the sufferer seemed totally void of feeling, for as lash after lash fell upon him, not a word was heard.
He had fainted! At the expiration of the second dozen, the captain instantly commanded another boatswain's mate to come forward and "Give that man one dozen lashes." During the time this man was flogging, the poor fellow revived a little and, turning to his flogger, he requested him to "flog fair." The fourth dozen having been inflicted he was released from the grating, with a back literally mutilated and his ribs quite blackened. After having had a little oil applied to his scars he was taken down to the fore-cabin (where complete darkness and foul air prevailed) and put under the charge of the sentinel. Allow me here to mention that the poor fellow has yet two years' imprisonment with hard labour for the same trifling crime.

CONFEDERATE VESSELS AT GLASGOW.—The Boston Transcript publishes the following extract from a letter written by an observant American, who was in Edinburgh on the 8th May:

I have no heart to-day for the beauties of Edinburgh, and can scarcely go abroad with a zeal this morning, and all for thinking of what I saw in Glasgow yesterday on both sides of the Clyde.
30 steamers, I was told, have been bought there for Confederate service during the last three months; 12 of them during the last week. A majority of these are small wooden paddle-wheel boats, capable of carrying two tiers of cotton bales in their cabins. They run or fly some 16 or 18 miles an hour, and are called the fastest craft in the world. They are intended, of course, to run out the cotton from the blockaded ports. They look lean and lathy as the Thames wherries.
The prices paid for them are between £7,500 and $8,000 apiece. The Glaswegians consider this free and spasmodic use of the cash obtained by the Confederate loan in Europe to savor a little of desperation. They consider these prices excessive, and really begin to dream that the South may be in great straits, to behave so.
Anti-slavery sentiment, however, is increasing sympathy with the North from day to day.

A SNAKE SWALLOWING AN ALIGATOR!—On Thursday last a snake of the boa species was killed by some labourers aback of an estate near town, and was found, when measured, to be 17 feet in length. On dissection, an alligator about 4 feet 4 inches long was found in its stomach.—

EASE AND HEALTH TO THE SICK HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

DISORDERS OF THE SKIN.

Universal approbation has been awarded to this famous Ointment for its efficiency in removing diseases of the skin. For scrofula, scurvy, scald heads, and all eruptions of the skin, both in infancy and maturity years, no remedy can be applied which so quickly cures as Holloway's Ointment. In the nursery it should always be at hand to ease the many skin affections to which the majority of children are liable. In all heat and tooth rashes, the Ointment is wonderfully cooling and curative. To soldiers, sailors, miners, and travellers in foreign lands, it is invaluable.

SORES, WOUNDS, BAD BREASTS, BAD LEGS.

In this class of maladies, an improvement in the appearance of the disease of the patient, follows the first dressing with the Ointment.

It must not only be smeared on the wound, or sore, but be briskly rubbed for some inches round about the diseased swollen or painful parts. It will penetrate to the blood vessels, nerves, and muscles, and even to the bone, and will exercise the most wholesome, healing, and purifying power over every tissue requisite for thorough repair. The effect of the Ointment is increased by fomenting with warm water before the Ointment is rubbed in; but sores, when healing, should never be cleansed with sponge or anything else, as the young and new flesh which appears like a cream, would be washed away.

BLOOD TO THE HEAD, APOPLEXY.

Nothing gives so much ease in these complaints from which so many suffer, as Holloway's cooling and healing Ointment. When rubbed upon the spine it acts most energetically in drawing surplus blood from the brain; even to children in teething; this Ointment has a marvellous effect in preventing fits and convulsions, so often attendant on tooth-cutting. The Pills should be used according to the directions.

RHEUMATISM, GOUT, STIFF JOINTS.

Every one suffering from these painful affections should use this purifying Ointment, as it has rescued thousands from a life of torture, after every other means had been tried in vain. The Ointment should be well rubbed into the skin at least twice a day, after it has been properly fomented with warm salt water, and dried.
The inflammation soon yields, and the patient no longer helpless, resumes his accustomed occupation.

GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, BRONCHITIS, MUMPS, SORE THROAT, AND DIPHTHERIA.

To combat these diseases with success, a remedy is required which will have the whole absorbent system under its control. Such a remedy is Holloway's Ointment, when rubbed on the skin; it penetrates to the glands, and removes any obstruction or impurity which may be impeding their healthy action. This Ointment acts on the very mainspring of life, for through the glands pass all new matter required for the body's reparation; in all the above class of cases, the Ointment and Pills used conjointly will act so searching, and certainly, as to effect cures in the most deplorable cases.

FISTULAS AND PILES.

All inflammations and ulcerations of sensitive parts may be presently relieved, and ultimately cured, by the diligent use of this cooling and healing Ointment, aided twice daily by bathing the parts in cold water. Immediate ease springs from this treatment; perseverance is necessary to effect a permanent cure.

ASTHMA, SHORTNESS OF BREATH.

In these complaints the Ointment should be well rubbed twice a day upon the chest, and between the shoulders; it will penetrate to the lungs, stimulate them to renewed exertion, prevent stagnation of blood, moderate the pulsations of the heart, regulate the current of air through the bronchial tubes, and thus effect a permanent cure.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases:—

Bad Legs.	Chapped Hands.	Scalds.
Bad Breasts.	Contracted and	Sore Nipples.
Burns.	Stiff Joints.	Sore-throats.
Bunions.	Elephantiasis.	Skin-diseases.
